Dear Friends:

X-L Contracting, Inc. is pleased to invite you to the 2008 Annual Golf Tournament to benefit Angels' Arms.

Angels' Arms is a St. Louis-based non-profit charitable organization that provides the house and the resources for foster families so that sibling groups can remain together. Children residing at a home provided by Angels' Arms become a part of a loving family and a caring community. Located in south St. Louis County, their inaugural home has been open since November 2003. The second home is located in West St. Louis County and opened to the family in October 2005. In December 2006 a third home was opened to a family in Ferguson, and as of July 31, 2007 Angels' Arms has opened a new home in Florissant. In addition to their family support, thanks to the community, the children living at an Angels' Arms house receive many advantages that most other foster parents could not afford. Here are a few examples of where the community steps in to make the lives of these children richer: birthday parties, after-school tutoring, family activities, holiday wish list, sports, music, dinners around the table, computer/internet access, dental services, and eye care. There is a severe shortage of foster parents and foster homes nationwide and while foster care isn't for everyone, you can contribute to the lives of foster children in other ways. One of the ways is by participating in our annual golf tournament. We hope you can join us for a good time and a great cause on September 27, 2008.

Thank You,

Matt St. John
